A Country I wish to visit

A country I wish to visit is Canada.

To see the natural beauty

Away from the high temperatures

Into the corner of the universe

Into a winter zone

Like hibernating animals

Long nights and short days

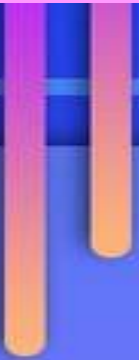

Where all nature including the sun forgets to wake up

It is interesting to wait for a sunny morning

To enjoy the mountains and rivers

By ice skating, making a snowman

With jackets and long boots

The good thing is this
I can stay with my loved ones
Especially, my dear parents and siblings
All the days of my life.

Snowy, windy, chilly day
Dancing, jumping, and playing
To enjoy the days
By fulfilling my long dreams.

Learner Bee

I am a learner bee.

I want to learn everything I see.

I want to learn.

How are cars made?

I want to learn. Is our earth round like the sun?

I want to soar up and up and high.

Because I want to measure the limit of the sky

I want to learn everything I see.

Because I am a learner,

I want to learn.

What is the speed of light?

I want to learn.

How is coding done?

I am a learner.

I want to learn everything I see.

My Hobby

Fingers on the keys,
Melodies begin to flow,
My heart starts to sing,
As I play the notes,
The rhythm fills my soul,
Playing keyboard is my beloved hobby,
I live for the joy it brings,
The music is my passion,
And the keys are my wings.

My Mother

My Mother, She's the best, you see,
Always there right next to me.
She wakes me up with a gentle touch,
Makes me breakfast, I love it so much!

She helps me get dressed, with buttons and ties,
Always patient, never tells me lies.
She packs my lunch with tasty treats,
Sandwiches and fruits, all so neat.

When I am at school, she's on my mind,
Knowing she's there, how I find
Comfort and love in every way,
She's my sunshine, whatever it may.

She helps me learn, with homework at night,
Explain things clearly and make them right.
She reads me stories before I sleep,
All characters and adventures, mine to keep.

She tucks me in, with a gentle hug,
Kisses my forehead with a snug.
In my dreams, she's there as a guiding light,
Protecting me all day and night.

My Mother, she's my hero,
I love her more than words can do.
She's the one who is always there,
My Mother, is beyond compare.

Love you mom...

Star Shines

To the Stars in the sky
Are you in millions, billions or trillions?
Stars...Uncountable beauties of night.
Sparkles daily and brings so much of joy to me
Just like stars, my face too shines when I gaze at you
Star shines...
Are you dangerously balls of gas?
Doesn't it hurt you?
My teacher told this in class today
Located immense distance from earth, you appear as a diamond to me
I wish to hold you in my hands, carry with me as my favorite ornament.
Star shines...
Do you know that you all sparkle at night?
Do you know you have many admirers on Earth...
God's amazing creation to brighten my evenings
Twinkle and winkles every night
You make me shine and glow
You bring lot of happiness to all
Thank you for being with us in the dark night.
Thank you for bringing so much joy on my face.

The Place I wish to visit!

Ever since I was a child,
My mother used to tell me tales of the moon.
I have always wondered what it would be like
To land on the moon.
With the recent developments
I feel it's possible
I have a long cherished dream
Of seeing what would life be like on the moon.
I have heard stories of people landing on the moon
And have tried to understand their experiences.
If ever I get an opportunity,
I would like to visit the moon. Stories I heard from my mother
Wanders in my mind
And gives me the inspiration
To pursue my dream
Of landing on the moon.

Generosity

The more you give,
The more you receive,
The more of everything you share,
The more you will always have to spare,
The more you do unselfishly,
The more you live happily,
The more you love,
and you will find,
That life is good,
and friends are kind!

A place I wish to visit: Kashmir

Kashmir is a very beautiful place in India, which is located in Northern India in the valley of Himalaya. The Capital of Kashmir is Srinagar. Last year, my cousins visited Kashmir. When I saw the photos of them playing in the snow, I also wanted to go to Kashmir. I have seen the scenic beauty of Kashmir in many of the Indian movies, so I would like to enjoy the natural beauty of Kashmir.

Kashmir is surrounded by high mountains, sloppy peaks, chilling springs and unspoiled forests. Kashmir is known as "Paradise on Earth" due to its magnificent beauty. The beautiful lakes, snow covered hills, springs and rivers are the real charm of Kashmir. Since I am a person who loves to play in snow and likes mountaineering, I am sure that Kashmir is the best place where I can enjoy each moment.

My Hobby

Dance is my favorite hobby and I enjoy dancing a lot. I started dancing when I was five years old. Listening to the beats of a dance number, I started to tap my feet and my parents recognized my talent for dance. When I got older my parents enrolled me in dance classes to pursue this passion. I cannot go a day without dancing, that's how much I love dancing. I like dancing because it makes me flexible, healthy and gives me extreme happiness. The great thing about dance is that it is also an exercise. Dancing makes me feel calm. It clears my mind and gives me a natural energy boost. In addition, it is also a great way to meet new friends. It has helped me to make a lot of friends. Even when I am sad, I put on music to dance and it reduces my sadness.

The place I wish to visit

The place I wish to visit is Zoo. There are so many reasons why I want to visit it. Firstly, I love animals! I have read books and seen pictures of many kinds of animals, but I have never seen them up close. At the zoo, I can see lions, tigers, and bears and even animals I have never heard of before. It would be like stepping into a magical world of creatures. I have heard the zoo have special signs with interesting facts about each animal. I could learn about where they come from, what they eat, how they live as well as watch them. Some zoos have special shows where animals do tricks and I want to watch these shows.

Zoos help us learn about animals and their habits. They also help us protect some endangered species. We should remember that while zoos are exciting, animals deserve to be happy and healthy. So, it is important that zoos take good care of the animals and give them enough space to move around.

Lastly visiting a zoo could be a great way to spend time with my family, we could have a picnic, walk around together, and take lots of pictures. I could share the pictures with my friends, and I could tell them about the incredible animals I saw.

Visiting a zoo can be a great adventure we can also learn to love and respect animals more when we see them up close.

Internet: Boon or Bane

It is now easier than ever to access the internet. An advantage of the internet is that young people can do research for their schoolwork and homework. This often helps teenagers to widen their knowledge and improve their grades. Another positive aspect of the Internet is that people can learn foreign languages by chatting with friends in other countries. This is also a good way of keeping in touch with friends and family around the world.

On the other hand, there are also negative consequences. Some young people become addicted to online gaming. It even creates a negative impact on their studies and their social lives. In addition to that, they hardly talk to their family members as they are always on the computer.

As a coin has two sides, the internet has both advantages and disadvantages. I think the internet is an incredible tool. However, we should be careful not to use the internet excessively.

If it is a school day, we are allowed to wear the casuals other than our school uniform. The teachers and my classmates treat me special. They wish me happy birthday and sing a happy birthday song for me, which is a great feeling. I like to distribute chocolates to everyone in my class.

At home, my parents decorate the flat with balloons and lights & keep all set for my birthday party. I wear new set of cloths of my choice. All my friends, along with families, arrive to celebrate my birthday which we start with cutting my birthday cake. It is a great fun when all sing a birthday song by my name. My mom makes delicious snacks for all of us. We also enjoy playing different games together

Then comes the most fun moment of the day which is unwrapping of gifts. I am always excited to see what I have receive in every new box.

My Baby Brother

My Brother! His name is Baslin. He is the sweetest brother in the entire world. I thank God every day for giving me this special gift, as he is our miracle baby.

He is a premature baby who was born 6 months old. Three months he was in NICU. We all crossed our fingers and prayed for him. God heard our prayers and finally the day arrived when my father took me to the hospital to see my precious baby brother. I was so nervous, his little body was so delicate and he was very small.

As soon as I saw him I fell in love, and I promised that I would protect him always.

Now, he is 2 years old. He is so perfect and it is like a dream. I cannot think of a life without him. He is very naughty but very, very cute. I love to be with him always. He is the best and I always thank God for blessing us with this precious miracle in our life.

My Birthday Party with a difference

My name is Ananya. My birthday is on 22nd July. During my 8th birthday this year, I was in a new city in India, where we didn't have any friends or relatives. So, we decided to celebrate in a girl's orphanage there. My mother explained to me about the place, and I happily agreed.

We reached the home with cake and some fruit around 11.30 a.m. We were welcomed by an Aunty, who was the caretaker there. There were around 10 girls, aged between 5 and 15. They looked very happy and excited. After introducing ourselves, I cut the cake, as they sang the 'Happy Birthday' song. We all sat together and ate the cake. We gave the fruits, spent some time talking and took photos before leaving.

In the evening, we did puja in a nearby temple and distributed chocolates to the visitors in the temple. I felt happy to get their wishes and blessings.

Thus, it was a very different birthday, celebrated with new and unknown people. Yet, it was lovely and made all of us happy. It will always be a memorable birthday of mine.

The most memorable day of my life

All moments are not same; some moments make you feel that this life that God has gifted us is special. It makes a lasting impression deep on your mind and remains like so forever. One such day that is memorable one for me is our visit to Ladakh. I was seven at that time. It was early morning we started our journey to this nostalgic place. I was so excited about this never experienced journey like never before. Ladakh I heard about is a land with fascinating beauty and extraordinary charm. Once I reached there it was more than that. The main highlight was the moment I entered this mesmerizing place, I know this place has something that no other place has to offer. After hectic days travel, we decided to take some rest and start afresh the next morning.

The next morning, I woke up, the first thing I saw clouds covering great Himalayas from massive window of my room. The sun was shining and clouds got into my room! It's a sight one can never forget. After breakfast, we started our expedition by visiting Pangyong lake. The lake was at quite a distance but Once we reached there, it was worth the effort that we put to reach there. The view was so charming and soothing to my eyes as if I was out of this world. The mountains behind and deep blue colour of the lake make this place worth visiting. We spent our whole day at the lake.

On return we had few fantastic local delicacies. The experience was soothing and calming. That day was well spent and memorable.

To conclude I must say that human life is filled with several small and big events. Some you forget but some stick with us for a long time.

A place I wish to visit and why

I like to visit many places, but the place I wish to visit the most is Paris. This is because of the many exciting things found there. The first thing I would like to do when I reach Paris is climb the Eiffel Tower and stroll in the Avenues de Champs Elysees. I would also like to visit the famous Arch of the Triomphe and Notredam Cathedral. It is also my wish to see the famous Monalisa painting in the Louvre Museum.

Then I would like to spend the whole day in Disneyland and escape into the heart of Disney, Marvel, and Pixar and meet many of my favourite Disney characters. Next, I would like to go on the Paris Canal cruise and visit the spooky catacombs. A boat tour of the river Seine is also one of the best ways to see Paris. There are many famous French cuisines along the way.

So these are some of the amazing things in Paris, making Paris the city of lights and my dream destination.

Auto Adventure

I usually travel by an auto rickshaw whenever I am in India. The cool breeze during rides and abundance of autos makes it a convenient mode of transport. One evening, I went with my parents to watch the latest Spiderman movie at a mall in Chennai. After watching the movie and enjoying some snacks, we tried to book an auto to return home. As it was peak hours, there were no autos that would take us directly home. We decided to catch the nearest bus stand and try again. To reach there we travelled in a share-auto which was really crowded. This was the beginning of my auto adventure.

We had no luck finding autos at the bus stand too, so we had to stuff ourselves in another share-auto and travel the long distance. The journey from the mall to my house usually takes 20 minutes but that day it took us nearly one hour. We moved slowly through the Chennai traffic and managed to reach the junction near our house. However, the auto driver refused to drop us near our building as the fuel was very low. We got down and decided to walk the remaining one kilometer. By the time I reached home, I was totally exhausted. It was a unique experience which I will always remember.

Most Adventurous Day of my Life

We travelled to Chennai city in India during Eid holidays to spend time with our Grandparents and relatives in Chennai. I have many cousins in Chennai, among all, two of them are my favorite. We had never been to their house before as their place is outside Chennai city limits and far from our home. This time we planned to spend one day in their house, so we went to their place on a Sunday (9th July 2023). It was a very scenic area next to the beach with lots of tourist attractions nearby.

First half day we spent in the Marine Kingdom where we saw many sea creatures live and enjoyed many activities. After Marine Kingdom, we had lunch and took some rest. We four kids (My sister, my cousins and me) wanted to enjoy more, so we told my parents to take us somewhere else. My mom and dad took all four of us boating and then we went to the nearby beach. It was sunset time and the beach looked absolutely beautiful. To our surprise, the beach also had activities like rock climbing which was quite steep.

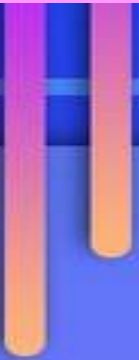

Just as we started rock climbing with parents behind us for support, weather began to change. Big dark clouds were seen in the sky. We reached the top of the rocky mountain and it started drizzling. After a hot day, chill wind with drizzling rain was very welcoming.

But suddenly rain started to pour heavily. People started to rush to find some shelter on the beach. Wind was blowing fiercely on top of the rocky mountain, and we were very scared to get down in heavy rain. My dad somehow managed to carry my cousins and me to safety and took us to a shelter nearby. My mom and sister were stuck there and did not want to risk coming down. Then a few good Samaritans helped to support my mother and sister to come down in the pouring rain. Since it was crowded and open beach, there was no proper space to take shelter from rain. With no proper place to take refuge from rain, my dad rushed to bring the car. After a long time, we sat inside the car and started to go back home - fully wet, cold and dripping from the rain.

Sudden heavy rain caused heavy traffic on the main road and the vehicles were moving at snail speed. Google maps showed us a different route through internal lanes that would save half an hour in time. So, my dad went inside unknown lanes, some lanes were so narrow with cycles and scooters parked on the road that my mother had to lift the cycles and tilt the bikes for the car to pass. Finally, we reached the interior road that Google maps was showing us.

We had the shock of our lives; the road was pitch dark without any vehicles. From our car's light we could make out that there was slope on either side of the narrow small road. It was very scary like we see roads in horror movies. There was no person or house nearby. My mom told my dad not to go on this road and to go back to the main road. My dad said it would be difficult to go in the narrow lanes again to go to the main road. But my mom insisted that it is better to go on lanes where people live than such scary pitch-dark narrow road, with continuous heavy rain. So, we turned our car, back into bumpy narrow lanes to reach the main road. Finally, after a long drive in the never-ending traffic we reached our cousin's home. We were so relieved to be back home.

It was an unforgettable day where we had lots of fun in the morning and an adventurous experience with heavy rain in the evening.

My First Train Journey

I experienced my first train journey when my parents took me to Goa for a holiday. We arrived at the Dadar railway station to catch the 5:50 a.m express train to Madgaon. Crowds started gathering at the platform, and as soon as the train arrived, we scrambled into our coach to get to our seats. The guard blew the whistle, and the train moved slowly and pulled out of the station. I felt thrilled and excited. The scenery outside was interesting and varied. Trees, bushes, rice fields, and houses flashed past us. After a few hours, I felt sleepy and dozed off to the rattling sound of the wheels. Suddenly, there was a jerk, and the train came to a halt. I woke up and looked out of the window; we had reached a station. Three minutes later, the train started moving again and accelerated gradually at a constant speed. Finally, after a couple of hours, the train came to a complete stop. We had at last reached our destination. We collected all our belongings and headed out of the station. It had been a very pleasant journey; one I could look forward to on our return to Mumbai.

My Pet Dog

My pet dog's name is Bruno. He likes to play all the time. His favorite games are Fetch, Who Will Catch the Ball First etc. He likes to eat chicken, fish, beef.

He was a stray dog who was lost in flood. He floated and came to my house and I saved him. I gave him food and water. After that he licked my face. Initially my father, grandfather and grandmother disagreed to keep him. After my continuous request everyone agreed to keep him on 2 conditions:

1. He should not bark in middle of the night.
2. He should not get into my father's or grandparents' bed.

I agreed and we started to take care of him. Every morning I take him for a walk. One day, I took him to the vet. The vet gave him vaccination and checked him.

After that me, my father and Bruno went to Decathlon and that became a car ride for him. He put his head and tongue outside the window. It seems he enjoyed the ride. He is a cute little dog and everyone in my family love him so much.

My Hobby

Hello Everyone, my name is Ibrahim. Parkar from class 4D. A hobby is something that you love and do in the free time. Though I love playing football in my free time but building legos is my favorite hobby. I was introduced to Legos by the age of four by my parents and since then I have got a number of sets as gifts on my birthday, Eid or if I have scored well in an exam. Building legos is very creative and requires lot of patience. I refer to my Lego book for ideas or at times I check YouTube videos. Till now I have build a helicopter, truck, a home with garden, robot etc. All my creations are displayed on a wall in my room. I also at times combine two sets and create a new combination. This summer I also visited Legoland in Dubai to see how my favorite blocks are built and was amazed to see massive things built out of Legos. I also came to know that there are Lego Engineers who invent all these lego sets. I found it to be awesome and wish to be one when I grow up. My parents encourage my hobby as they call it as a great stress buster and sometimes they join me as well. I feel extremely happy every time I get a Lego set. I love my hobby and want to keep building Legos forever.

The most memorable day of my life

The most memorable day of my life was 21st June 2023. It was the day when I went “Go Karting” at the Al- Kout mall with my family and friends. At the Counter, we booked the tickets. I and my friend went in the kids' go- kart and my sister and her friends went in the adult go kart.

At the main door, I and my friends took some pictures on the Formula f1 model race car. After that, we went inside the race court to sit in the kart. My kart was in front of my friend 's kart. It was red in color. When the signal to drive came with a green light, we pressed the accelerator and the car went on. It was super speed car. I made 5 big rounds of the whole racing path and after that the kart helpers showed us the flag and then we parked our karts. It was great fun. Later, while having some snacks I was surprised to see my rank on score board. And wow!! I came 2nd! I was so happy and excited. It definitely was one of my best experiences and became the most memorable day of my life.

The Adventures of Daisy the Duck

Once upon a time, there lived a duck named Daisy. She used to live in a pond near the village. One day the pond dried up and Daisy had to find another place to live in. There were many ponds in that village. Thus, Daisy started her journey to find a new home. The next morning, after reaching a farm, when she saw more ducks, she felt happy and safe, but when she saw the farmer running towards her, she knew she had to escape. So, she flew as high as she could until she got away. When she landed, she saw a park filled with children. One child was jumping in a puddle of water. Daisy went to that puddle to drink water. The child saw her and screamed with joy. Daisy took flight once again and reached a meadow. There was a pond next to the meadow. Daisy was very excited. But as she was hungry, she searched for food. Then she found a snail under a stone. She moved the stone away with all her strength. She satisfied her hunger after eating the snail and moved to the pond and lived there happily ever after.

The place I wish to visit and why

There are many beautiful places in the world, but the place I wish to visit is my village, named Trilot. It is a small, beautiful village in the Konkan region of Maharashtra. The place is far away from the pollution and noise of the city.

Trilot is home to picture-perfect sea beaches and lush greenery. The coastline is scattered with tall coconut groves, mango trees, caves, and temples. It is well known for seafood delicacies, making it heaven for seafood lovers, and it is extremely famous for its alphonso mangoes.

My house is in a secluded location surrounded by mango farms, and the sea is just a few steps away. We can breathe fresh air while listening to the sound of the waves and the breezy wind of the sea brushing by.

I always wish to visit there, as it makes me feel peaceful and closely connected to nature.

A Day in the Desert

At the end of last winter, my father had promised to take us on a different trip that we had not gone before. One day my father woke up early and told us to wake up. My mother had prepared everything necessary for the trip. We quickly put on our clothes and got into the car. On the way, we were so excited. My father said that we were going on the trip that he had promised earlier. We were going to spend the day in the desert (Al- Bar). Upon our arrival, the second surprise awaited us, We found my uncles and their children waiting for us to spend the day together. My father and my uncles started setting up tents and grilling meat, burgers and sausages. At the same time my mother and aunts set up the dining table. After food, we rode the Buggy and played football. In the evening, we sat enjoying the warmth of the burning coals, chatting and exchanging conversations. We grilled sweet potatoes and corn, while the adults drank tea and coffee brewed over a charcoal fire. By midnight we started getting ready to go back, and we said goodbye to each other and everyone got into the car. On the way, my brothers and I fell into a deep sleep. After that we expressed our happiness to our father and thanked him very much. He also promised us that he would take us for a trip again. It was really an unforgettable day in my life and one of my happiest days.

Recently, I had been to Saudi Arabia to meet my uncle. It was so nice to meet him after a long time. We visited various places like Saudi Kingdom Tower, Boulevard World- Mall in Riyadh, The Dolphin Show, Lion circus and Magic Show in Dammam and Dhahran Mall. Dhahran mall is one of the biggest malls in the world. We went around the mall window shopping. After sometime, I went to the restroom. When I came back, I could not find any of my family members. I was afraid and almost in tears. Yet, I put on a brave face and continued to search for them. Luckily, I heard my mom calling my name, I rushed to my mom at once and hugged her and cried inconsolably. This was the unforgettable day of my life. I learnt a lesson that I should not wander alone in public places.

The place I visited for vacation

During my visit to India, we visited Kodaikanal with my family and relatives. Kodaikanal is a cozy hill town in Tamil Nadu. The climate was cold with little drizzles often. We visited the botanical garden which had beautiful colorful flowers and a landscape where I played with my cousins. I went horse riding with my sister and I loved it. We went for boating near the lake where I pedaled the boat back to the shore. My parents also took me to a waterfall, my cousins and I took a bath and enjoyed a lot. I also tried delicious street food and fresh carrots, fruits and homemade chocolates. While travelling I saw some monkeys on the treetop, a monkey even tried to snatch some snacks from me. I also saw wild bison and deer. Camp fire was arranged in the hotel where we stayed in, my cousins and I had fun dancing and eating melted marshmallow at night. We travelled in a minibus with family and relatives, we enjoyed playing games and danced with my sisters and cousins. Kodaikanal was filled with lush forest and greenery as far as the eye can see. I wish to visit Kodai again.

The Pencil and the Pen

In the pouch of a boy named Manu, there lived a group of pencils in which one of them was called Chotu. He was called that because Manu had sharpened him a lot, which made him much smaller than the other pencils.

But Chotu didn't mind because the name suited him very well. "Hello Chotu" the other pencils used to say to him when they were next to him. Soon he got used to it. Now Manu came to fourth grade. His teacher told one day "children, from tomorrow onwards you will be writing with pens. But don't forget to bring your pencils because we will draw diagrams with them.

"Yes mam!" chorused Manu and the other children.

So when he got home, he told his mother, "Mother, our teacher told us to bring our pens to school tomorrow because we will be writing with our pens."

"Very good" said mother. The next day the pen came in Manu's pouch. Chotu was the first one to see him when he came. He said "hello! Good morning! My name is Chotu". Till then the other pencils were there.

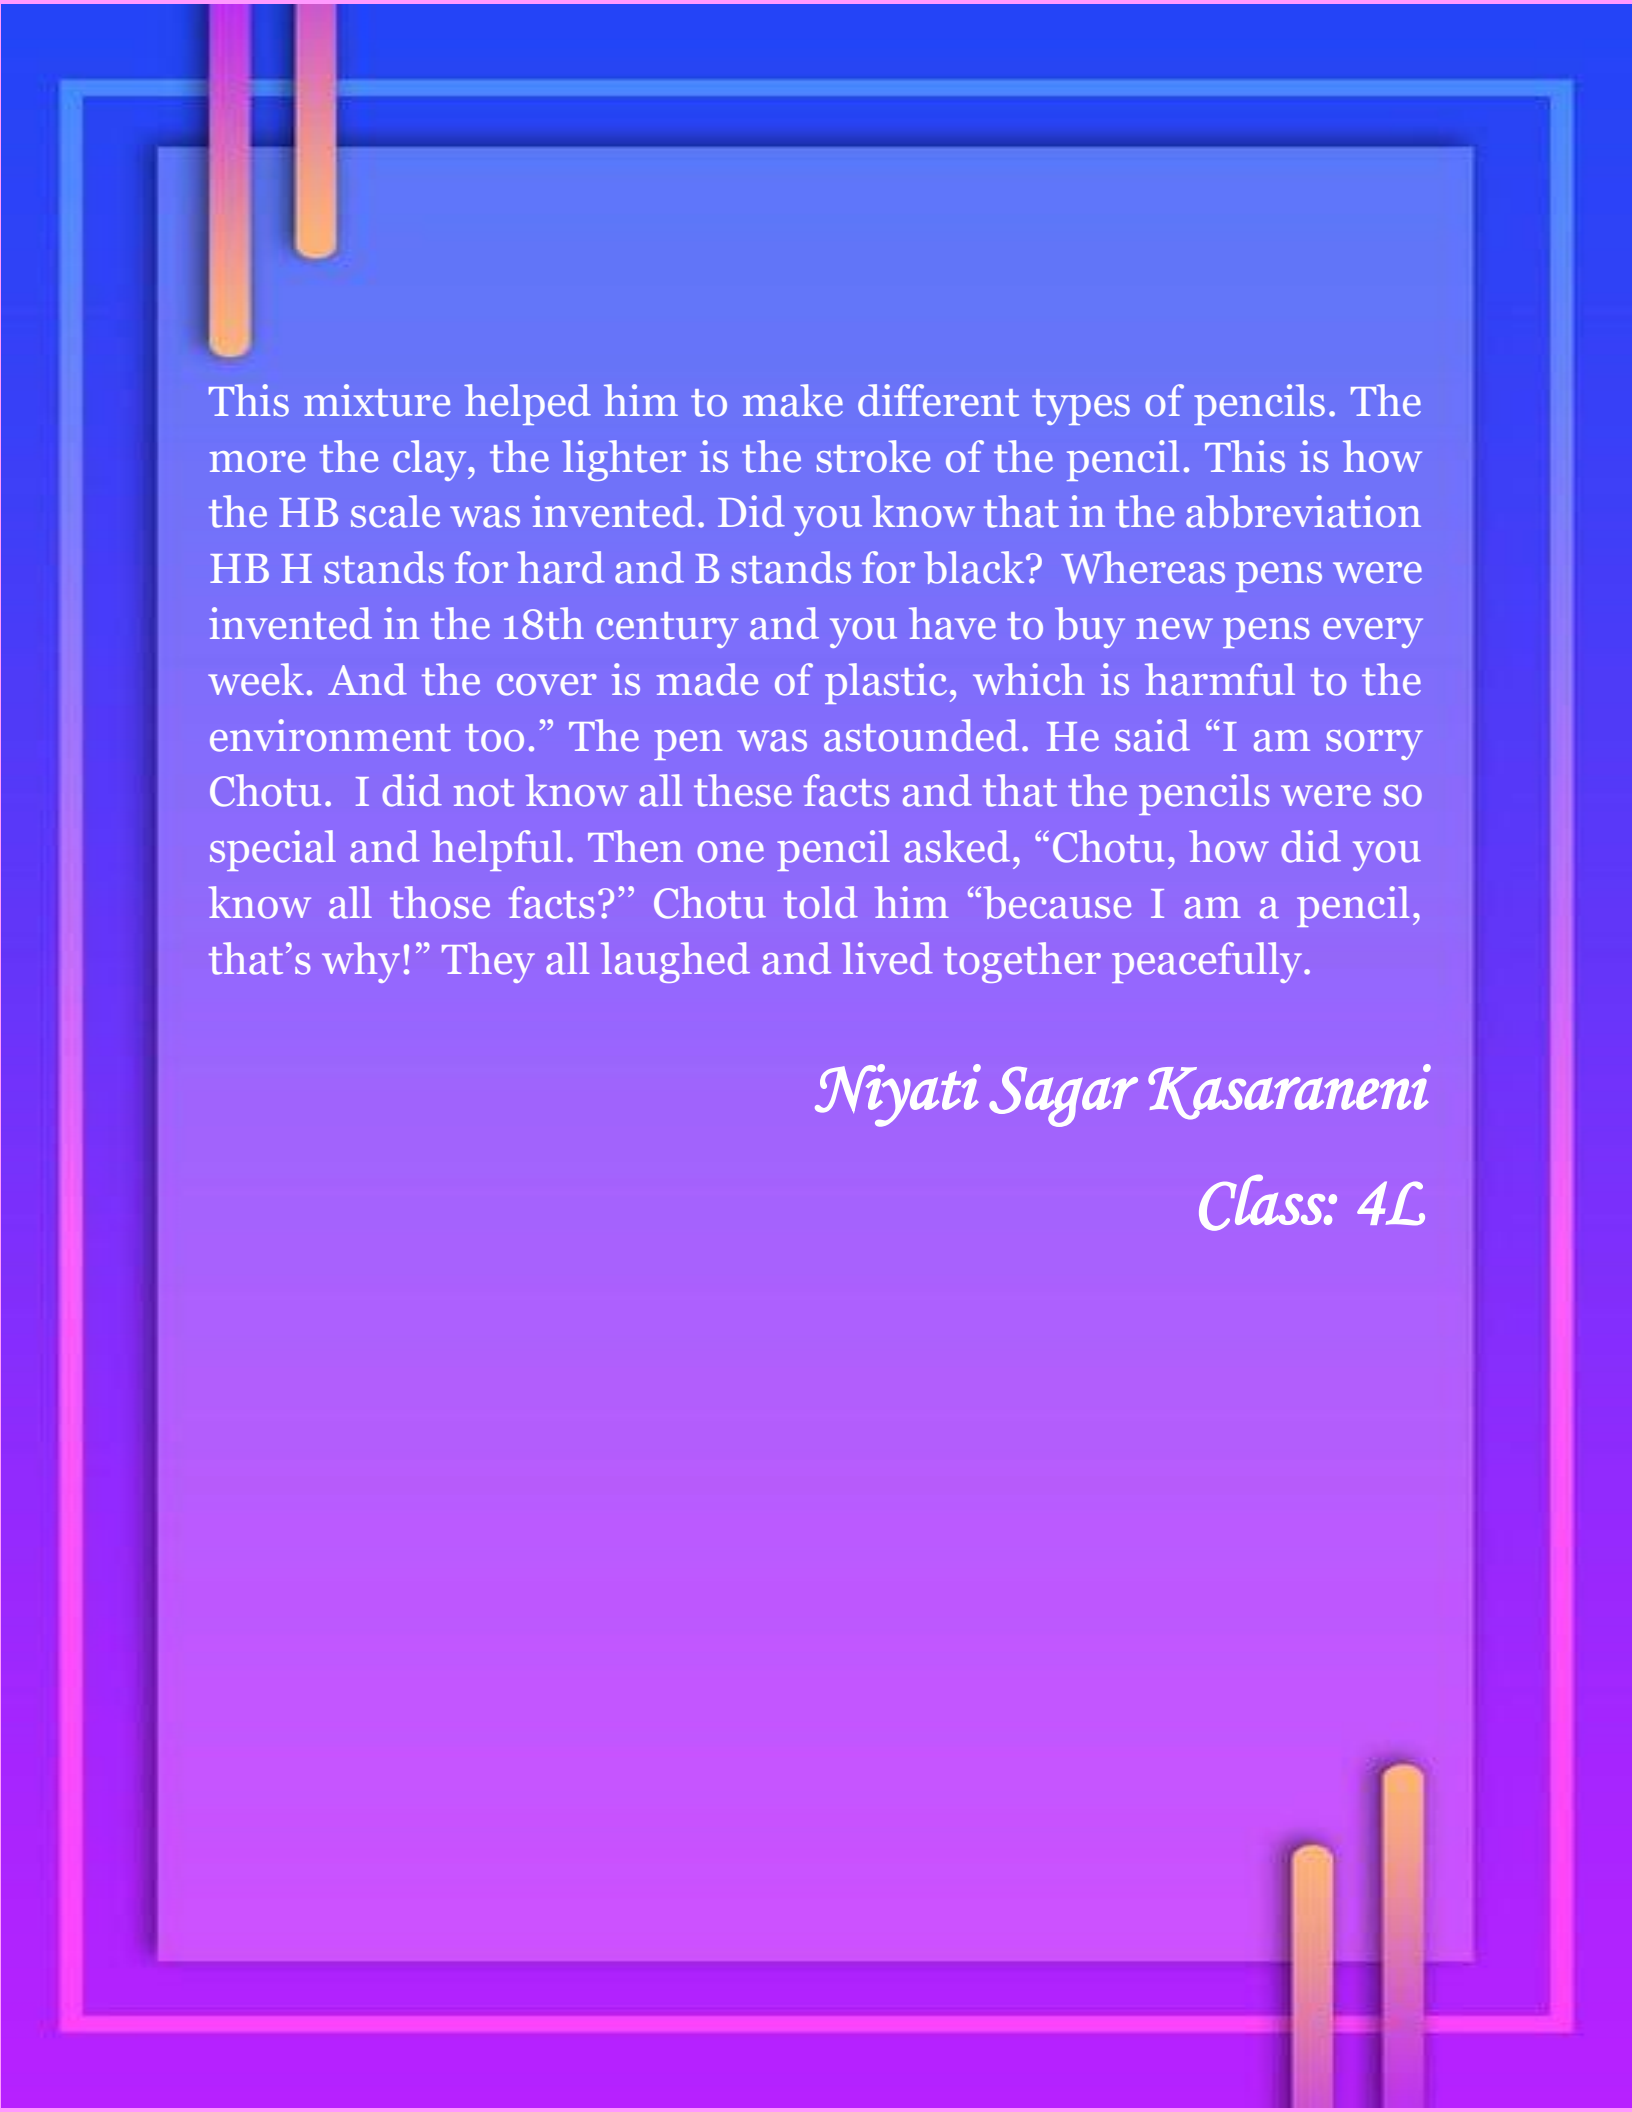

My name is Pinto, Pinto the pen, He said in a loud voice. Now I am the one who will be used the most he told the other pencils. I will be used the most because Manu's teacher told that they will only write with pens like me, and only do charts, diagrams, boxes, etc. we pens are more stronger and non-breakable than you tiny and useless pencils. Your nib always breaks every now and then and he has to keep on sharpening it. He loses time and might not finish his work. Whereas when he writes with pens like me, he doesn't need to sharpen us every second and finishes his work faster. So clearly pens are always needed. Chotu said, "No we also are very useful. Yes our nibs do break but did you know that we are made of graphite? In the 14th century graphite was found and was used to mark sheep so the shepherds would not get confused. Actually, graphite is lead, which is super toxic to humans. It used to come without a cover, so the graphite used to come and stick on the hand when they used to hold it. So a smart Italian couple came up with the idea of using wood to cover it in 1560. Then later in 1795 an officer in the napoleon army, Nicolas Jacques Conte came up with the same idea for putting a wood covering, which is just like the modern pencils, which are the ones we see today.

The process was simple, he made a mixture of water, clay and graphite and boiled it at 1900<sup>0</sup>f and then put it in between two carved pieces of wood and let cool.

This mixture helped him to make different types of pencils. The more the clay, the lighter is the stroke of the pencil. This is how the HB scale was invented. Did you know that in the abbreviation HB H stands for hard and B stands for black? Whereas pens were invented in the 18th century and you have to buy new pens every week. And the cover is made of plastic, which is harmful to the environment too.” The pen was astounded. He said “I am sorry Chotu. I did not know all these facts and that the pencils were so special and helpful. Then one pencil asked, “Chotu, how did you know all those facts?” Chotu told him “because I am a pencil, that’s why!” They all laughed and lived together peacefully.

My Hobby

Cycling is one of my favourite hobby. Cycling is a hobby that I have enjoyed on every holiday in Goa for many years. I find it to be a very relaxing and enjoyable activity and it is something that I look forward to doing whenever I have the opportunity.

One of things that I love most about cycling is the sense of freedom that it gives me. When I am out on my bicycle I feel like I am able to just let go and truly be myself. Cycling is a form of exercise which means that it is easy on the joints and is suitable for people of all ages and fitness levels. It is also a great way to improve our health and also strengthen your muscles. Another great thing about cycling is that it can be done alone or with a group of friends. I often go on solo rides, which allows me to really connect with myself and my surroundings. I learned to ride a cycle when I was studying in L.K.G. In the beginning, I was a bit afraid to drive, but my father helped me and taught for a few days. I got hurt for two days. He gave me the confidence to continuously do it.

Finally, cycling has become my favourite hobby. Every day in the evening, I go cycling along with my friends to the playground near my house. My fancy lights and bell are my unique choice in my cycle. I love to do cycling. When I pedal the bicycle, I feel the pleasure of the wind passing by against my face. I have a shiny blue bicycle. My parents gifted it to me on my birthday last year.

I love riding my cycle with my friends in the neighborhood. I go out to cycle every evening, along with my friends. Sometimes I take my cute little kitten, Lucky, with me too. She sits in the basket in front of the cycle and enjoys the ride with me. Sometimes I use the basket to collect flowers that have fallen from plants and tree. I look forward to going out on cycle rides every day. It is refreshing when the pleasant winds blow on my face while cycling. I take care of my cycle and wipe off the dust settled on it every weekend. I like it when it shines. My cycle is having different gears it also has a bottle holder and a lock. My father ensures that I always wear my protective gear while cycling to prevent any injuries. I have decorated my cycle with stickers as well to make it more personalized.

I love my bicycle and I wish to keep it with me even after growing up. As, cycling is good for the environment and our health. I plan to keep cycling for a long time to lead a healthy life and make the environment clean.

My Dream Adventure to the Enchanted Forest

In a land not so far away, lies a place that fills my heart with wonder and excitement - the Enchanted Forest. This magical realm is where I wish to visit because of the tales I've heard and the dreams I've imagined.

Imagine walking through a forest where trees sparkle with leaves of silver and gold. Birds sing melodies that make the flowers dance, and the soft rustling of leaves sounds like whispers from fairies. In this wondrous land, animals talk and share stories with anyone willing to listen.

I dream of meeting a wise old owl who can answer all the questions I've ever had. The squirrels would teach me how to climb trees like a pro, and the rabbits would show me their secret hideouts. With each step, I'd uncover new mysteries and make friends with creatures straight out of storybooks.

At night, the Enchanted Forest turns into a magical light show as fireflies create a symphony of colors that dance in the air. I'd lay down on a bed of soft moss, gazing at the stars and listening to the soothing lullabies of the night.

The Enchanted Forest is not just a place; it's a world of enchantment and endless possibilities. I wish to visit because I want to experience the magic, make new friends, and have adventures beyond my wildest dreams. One day, I hope to step into this fairy tale land and create stories that I can share with others, just like the stories that have inspired me.

Reading-A mini gym for Brain

My hobby is reading books. I like to read because it takes me into the world of imagination. With each page I enter a new place and imagine myself as one of the characters. I start thinking critically that what I would have done in that place.

In movies I see what I hear, but in case of books, my mind is open to visualize things, my way. I get into the shoes of someone else and my brain starts lighting up to new ideas

I also get to explore about different countries and fulfil my curiosity of knowing about how different people in the world think based on their cultural differences. I get to know about their lifestyles, their hardships, their food habits and hobbies etc. I experience all those things which I can never feel in real life. It fulfils my curiosity of knowing about the world.

When I read a nice novel, I feel very relaxed and stress free. One more added benefit is it improves my vocabulary and reading speed. It is just like a good exercise for brain.

Some of my favourite books are 'Wimpy Kid', 'Goosebumps 2' and 'The Thea Sisters'.
